

SAILORS' PERIL.

The Whaler Helen Mac Caught
In a Mass of Ice

In the Arctic Regions and Crushed
Into Kindling Wood.

Thirty-Five Seamen Lost Their Lives—
Only Five of the Vessel's Men Escape Death—The Survivors Cling to the Mast for Many Hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The steam-whaler Beluga, which arrived from the Arctic Sunday, brings the news of the destruction of the whaling bark Helen Mac, Capt. Thaxter, and the loss of thirty-five of her crew. Only five of the vessel's men were saved. On October 6, while the Helen Mac was engaged in cutting in whale, in latitude 71 degs. 30 min. north, longitude 109.30 west, she was crushed in the ice. The ice came in a rush and without warning.

The vessel and the boats were crushed to splinters, and the officers and the men had no time to lower the boat and get away. The fifth mate, Ward, a boat steerer, Cook Okey Kershaw and two sailors were the only ones saved.

They clung to the main mast as it went over on the ice. The rest of the crew, including Capt. Thaxter, were either crushed to death or drowned. For forty-eight hours the five men clung to the mast, and were finally taken off by the steam whaler Ooca. The Beluga brought down with her the cook and a Japanese sailor of the Mac. The two others remained on the Ooca, and went on the whaler reindeer. The Helen Mac had taken five whales before her destruction, and was owned by Wright, Bowen & Co., of this city. Wm. Robinson, the chief officer of the whaler F. A. Bartow, and John Gallagher, of the Thrasher, died in Arctic. The Beluga brings the following report of the whaling fleet up to October 17:

Abraham Barker, 5; Alice Knowles, 5; Andrew Hicks, 1; Belvedere, 7; F. A. Bartow, 5; Sea Ranger, 5; Northwhale, 11; Sea Broome, 3; Wanderer, 4; Perry Edward, 1; Bonanza, 3; Laninga, 1; California, 3; Mermaid, 3; Bounding Billow, 9; Grampus, 10; Hunter, 10; James Allen, 2; John Winthrop, 1; Ooca, 9; Thrasher, 10; Newport, 3; Bolen, 9; J. H. Freeman, 4.

Anarchists' Monument Dedicated.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The monument erected in memory of the anarchists executed five years ago in Chicago was dedicated at Waldheim cemetery Sunday. There was a street parade, in which many women and children participated, despite the fact that a cold, drizzling rain was falling. The graves of Spies, Parsons, Fischer and Engel, who were executed, and of Ling, who committed suicide, were covered deep with flowers and wreaths, and on top of the monument was placed a floral garland. The services consisted of songs and speeches, none of the latter being inflammatory, and no red flags were displayed.

A Labor Political Organization.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—Delegates claiming to represent 30,000 workmen in the western part of the state met in Turner hall Sunday afternoon and formed the Western Pennsylvania Industrial association. The object is political, but nothing will be done at the coming election. At future elections it is intended to vote for candidates favoring workmen, irrespective of party.

Murderer Jeffers Captured.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Nov. 7.—Wade Jeffers, the colored murderer from Mt. Sterling, for whose arrest $100 reward was offered, was captured here Saturday morning, where he has been in hiding ever since the night of his crime. He killed George Turner, his stepson, in a drunken brawl four weeks ago, by striking him over the head with an unloaded revolver.

Avenged His Daughter.

SMITHVILLE, O., Nov. 7.—M. B. Herring shot and killed Sidney J. Adkins Sunday evening. Adkins was charged with wronging Herring's daughter. Herring is a farmer living in this section, and is well thought of. Adkins was a guard at the Oglethorpe Branch penitentiary. Herring will surrender, believing that his action will be endorsed by his fellow-citizens.

Three Stores Blown Up.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—A large lot of fireworks and two kegs of powder, stored in the grocery house of S. J. Rose, exploded, tearing out the entire front of three stories and ruining the stock in Rose's store and damaging a great deal of goods in the two adjoining stores. Several people were badly hurt, some probably seriously.

Col. Manning Dead.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Hon. Van H. Manning, aged fifty-three years, is dead. Mr. Manning was a colonel in the confederate army. He represented the Second (Mississippi) district in congress for three terms. Since his retirement from congress, about a decade ago, he has practiced law in this city. He leaves a wife and eight children.

Arrests to Be Made by the Whites.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—U. S. Marshal Jacobus announced Sunday night that he has 4,000 warrants for the arrest of bootleggers in the cheap boarding-houses in this city, and the men are located, and Monday will be arrested.

Damage to Cotton.

CAMDEN, Ark., Nov. 7.—A steady rain has been falling in this section for twelve hours, accompanied by a cold wind. Great damage will result to the cotton in the fields, as it will rot in the boll.

New Mexico Legislature.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 7.—The legislature will stand fourteen democrats and ten republicans. The senate seven republicans and five democrats.

Price of Window Glass Fixed.

COLUMBIA, O., Nov. 5.—The window glass manufacturers of the district fixed the price at eighty and fifteen per cent. off on lots of one thousand boxes.

TO THE COURTS.

Come the War Between the Governor and the Kentucky Legislature.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 7.—After some of the finest skirmishes ever witnessed in this state, the issue of the World's fair appropriation was submitted to Judge Moffitt in the circuit court Saturday morning. Col. Davis, of Louisville, presented the petition of the commission, and Senator Goebel presented the answer for the auditor.

Col. Davis entered a general demurrer to the answer. Judge Montfort sustained the demurrer, and issued a mandamus directing the auditor to pay the money. An appeal was at once taken to the appellate court, docketed and advanced. The court of appeals adjourned Saturday to November 15, but they will probably hand down their final decision immediately upon their return.

Judge Montfort says: "There was nothing upon the face of the act disclosing that it was passed in an unconstitutional manner, the requisition of governor upon the auditor for the payment of any money, and upon this issue a mandamus. Should the auditor pay under these circumstances his bondsmen would not be liable, and the state would forever be estopped from suit upon the bond."

Sensor Goebel has so adroitly drawn the answer that the court of appeals will have to go into the constitutionality of the act, and what constitutes the famous "final passage of the bill," which enters into the great turmoil in which the legislature, or more particularly the senate and the governor are involved.

The outcome will be watched with intense interest throughout the state. Pitted in this case are two of the most brilliant young lawyers in Kentucky.

Sensor William Goebel of Covington, and Col. Geo. W. Davis of Louisville, and the commissioners also appeared. Judge W. P. D. Bush, formerly of the court of appeals, and for the auditor, ex-Gov. Knott. The case was docketed for Tuesday week.

The auditor says: "I will certainly pay the money if the court of appeals mandamus me. I will then be for the old flag and the appropriation. Let her go, Gallagher."

THE BELGIAN REPUBLIC.

Alarming Movement For Free Suffrage
For All.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 7.—The agitation for universal suffrage continues, and its advocates are earnestly urging all liberals to make a demonstration in the streets of the capital on Tuesday next, when King Leopold will open parliament. The authorities are alarmed at the prospect, and measures are being taken to prevent any uprising, as it is feared that socialist agitators may take advantage of public excitement and precipitate riot.

The leaders of the socialist movement deprecate violence, but there is a strong anarchist element that will hesitate at nothing. King Leopold himself is said to lean toward a system of suffrage similar to that of England, with small tax-paying qualifications. He is opposed to allowing everybody to vote, as the industrial classes are deeply permeated with revolutionary ideas, and he apprehends that unrestricted suffrage would mean a republic.

MASKED MEN.

Take a Prisoner From His Guard And Hang Him.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Nov. 7.—John Hastings, alias John Maghony, who was delivered into the custody of J. Bontner and Mr. Cotton, agents of the state of Louisiana, here, reached Jonesville, La., and concluded to remain there all night with his prisoner. They were guarding him on the back porch of the store of D. I. Shillinkler.

About 8:30 o'clock in the morning a mob of masked men appeared, overpowered the guards, took the prisoner from them to an old saw mill below Jonesville and hanged him. The body remained there for several hours. In the space of a week's time one white man was murdered and four Negroes. The murderer, his two sons, and a daughter paid the penalty with their lives.

Township Treasurer Missing.

WARREN, O., Nov. 7.—Samuel W. Cone, the township treasurer, is missing, and the trustees are after him for money lately in his care as treasurer. Cone is also custodian of the school fund, and last year there came into his hands not far from $2,700 for township and school uses. Whether there is any shortage in the school funds, which comprises about two-thirds of all the moneys that came into his care as treasurer, is not known.

The Coffin Burst.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Nov. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Humphreys' little boy, Harrison, died of diphtheria, and was buried by moonlight. While the funeral cortege was on its way to the cemetery the wagon containing the coffin upset, turning the coffin containing the child's body out on the ground, breaking the lid and glass and letting the corpse alight out. Mrs. Elizabeth Rowe was also thrown from her buggy and badly hurt.

Woman Poisoner Resisted.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Thomas Cream Neill, the woman poisoner convicted of murder and under sentence of death, who was to be hanged on Tuesday next, has been respite for one week. Home Secretary Asquith intimates that the respite is granted solely to give time for the receipt of certain documents from America supposed to have a material bearing on the case.

Lama Dances.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—The jury in the lama case came in at 11:15 a. m., Saturday. They acquitted Col. Hawkins and Streeter and Surgeon Grimm of the charge of assault upon ex-Private Lama. The costs are divided between the county and defense.

Granade in a State of Siege.

MADRID, Nov. 7.—The government has declared Granada in a state of siege because of the rioting there, due to the non-appearance of the Queen Regent and young King Alfonso to unveil the statue of King Alphonso.

THE STRIKE ON.

It Took Effect in New Orleans
Saturday at Noon.

Printers', Clothing and Dry Goods
Clerks' Unions the Exceptions.

Some Forty or More Union Men Arrested for Assault—The Merchants Massing
Arms at Washington Artillery
Hall—An Outbreak Feared.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7.—The city is in a state of ferment. Anxiety is felt on all sides as to the outcome of the labor troubles, and an outbreak is imminent. The general strike ordered by the labor unions became effective at noon Saturday, and barring isolated cases, all the union men in the city have quit work.

Owing to the peaceful policy adopted by the leaders of the movement and the forbearance shown by the majority of workmen, the employers were not put to much trouble in securing non-union help. All commercial firms were operated on reduced forces, however, and in some instances the employers themselves took the places made vacant by the strikers.

The cause of labor suffered something of a setback owing to the defection of the printers, whose action in refusing to join in the general strike led to a like action by the Clothing Clerks' union and retail Dry Goods Clerks' union. The organizations resolved not to participate in the strike. This determination worried the leaders considerably, but the assertion is made that these unions will join the movement should the merchants remain firm. The Gas Co., foreseeing trouble, wisely made preparations to guard against inconvenience being experienced by their patrons, and have stored up a supply of gas which will last at least two days. It is reported, however, that the mains of the company and the electric wires will be cut.

The Car Drivers' union went out at 5 o'clock, despite the contract with the railroad companies not to participate in any labor movement for one year. Consequently the people are walking. The musicians of the city have joined in the movement, and it is impossible to secure a band. There was no music at the matinees, and the performances at night were conducted with the aid of piano accompaniments.

Fearing serious trouble, the merchants are massing arms at Washington Artillery hall, where over a thousand guns have been sent to be used in case of an emergency. Since the beginning of the strike nearly two score men have been arrested for interference with non-union workmen. The cases are all of an aggravated nature, and in several of them the scabs were knocked senseless, and one or two were crippled. Robert Perkins, a Negro driver, was knocked senseless by a striker named Evans, who was arrested. A carriage returning from a funeral was stopped by two Negroes, who hurled stones at the driver, but upon his drawing a revolver they fled. Mr. M. Duffy, of the firm of E. Duffy & Sons, while on his way from a funeral Sunday morning, was surrounded by a mob, and efforts were made to drag him from his carriage. He drew a brace of revolvers and scared the crowd off.

There were signs Sunday night of a probable compromise of differences out of which the general strike of laborers in this city grew. Should the efforts made to harmonize the trouble between the merchants and the laborers avail nothing, the probability is very strong that trouble of a very serious nature will occur Monday. The militia has been ordered to hold itself in readiness to preserve the peace. Details of men have been placed at each of the armories in the city to guard the state property. Gov. Foster and Lieut.-Gov. Parlage, aware of the seriousness of the situation, came to the city Sunday to ascertain the exact state of affairs, and it is hoped by the more conservative element on both sides that their interference will bring about a reconciliation.

Their Horrible Fate.

GUTHRIE, Okl., Nov. 7.—A horrible story is reported from Deep Fork, in Pottawatomie county. Two weeks ago the wife and babe of a settler, living near there, mysteriously disappeared. Saturday the head of the child and portions of the body of the mother were discovered in the woods several miles from the house. The woman and child had been carried off and devoured by a ferocious panther. Fifty armed men are hunting for the panther.

Nicaragua Canal Convention Called.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7.—President T. J. Odendall, of the New Orleans board of trade, has issued a call for a national convention to assemble at New Orleans on the 30th day of November, in the interest of the movement now being made to place the Nicaragua canal under the control of the national government and urge its speedy completion.

Four White Men Beheaded.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—The steamer Chilkat arrived here Saturday from Alaska. She left Fort Wrangle October 28, and while there it was learned that four white men had been found in the camp at Port Berry, Kuprenoff island, with their heads cut off and their clothing stripped from their bodies.

Man Attacked by a Rooster.

READING, Pa., Nov. 7.—John Glepe, living near Fordville, was attacked by a large game rooster, which had been the victor in several recent cock-fights. The man's face was so badly pecked that both eyes were swollen tight shut, and his nose badly lacerated.

Valuable Dog Dead.

MELROSE, Mass., Nov. 7.—Lord Melrose, the largest St. Bernard dog in the world, died Sunday night at E. H. Moore's kennel, of gastric cholera. He was valued at $10,000, and had won first prize at Boston, Toronto, Kingston, Rochester and numerous places.

SOUGHT DEATH.

With Flowers in Her Hand She Stations
Herself on a Railway Track and Awaits a Train.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 7.—A woman was killed Sunday morning by an incoming passenger train on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad under circumstances which seem to indicate a most dreadful form of suicide. As the train came in at thirty-mile an hour rate the woman walked upon the track, and paying no attention to the warning whistles stood still until she was struck by the pilot. The blow was a dreadful one, and she was thrown over a mile past a distance of thirty-five feet. Her neck, back, shoulder and seven ribs were broken, and several minor injuries inflicted. In her hand she had a bunch of Chrysanthemums, which she clasped in the death grip. She was unknown, apparently about fifty years of age and was poorly dressed. The engineer thought she was drunk but could not detect the smell of liquor. The coroner's jury exonerated the railroad from blame.

BUTCHERED.

Four Men Cut to Pieces By Blood-Thirsty Indians.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—The steamer Chilkat arrived here from Alaska. She left for the Wrangle October 28, and while there it was learned that four white men had been found in the camp at Ft. Berry, Kuprenoff island, with their heads cut off and their clothing stripped from their bodies. The crimes are supposed to have been committed by Kake Indians, as an outcome of the Edwards trouble last year, when John Edwards, a miner and explorer, was killed by the natives, who fancied that he had got the better of them in some trivial matter. The bodies of the murdered men were horribly mutilated and could not be identified. In two instances the heads had been stuck on posts near by and the flesh had been plucked off by crows. The murdered men were miners.

U. S. Marshals Defied.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 7.—The sheriff of Macon county writes a defiant letter to U. S. Marshal Walker, intimating that deputies appointed by Walker will not be respected in Macon. Walker rejoins in a manner that indicates trouble between the state and federal authorities in that county on election day. Chairman Shelley, of the state campaign committee, has issued an address, in which Marshal Walker is denounced as a "blusterer," and says his instructions to deputy marshals are a bluff for political purposes.

Hands for Homestead.

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 7.—During the past few days there has been in this section a gentleman from Pittsburgh, Pa., employing hands for a furnace company at the Smoky City. He succeeded in securing a large party here, which started for Pittsburgh Sunday morning. En route he purposed to pick up a hundred or more additional men at Staunton and Harrisonburg. It is believed that these men are destined for Homestead, as most of them have had experience in the mills at Pittsburgh.

Democratic Speakers Killed by Cars.

ELMHURST, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Wm. Mott and Warren Johnson, both of Athens, Pa., went to Willawana, Saturday night, to address a democratic mass meeting. They were returning about 11 o'clock and when crossing the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western track were struck by an express train, Mott being instantly killed and Johnson fatally injured, his death resulting about 4 a. m. Sunday. Their horse was also instantly killed.

An Aged Couple Suicided.

BAD AX, Mich., Nov. 7.—When Carrie Lathrop went to call her aged parents, who live on a small farm near here, she found both of them dead in bed. A search of the room revealed an empty bottle of laudanum, which they had evidently taken on retiring at night. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop were over 70 years of age and had become greatly despondent over family quarrels.

Philly Anna Strangled Dead.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 7.—The chestnut filly Anna Bramble, two years, by Bramble, dam Anne Augusta, by Imp. Lexington, died Sunday at the West Side track, of congestion of the brain. She was a good winner this season, and J. W. Levy, Gallatin, Tenn., her owner, valued her at $5,000.

A Co-Operative Electric Company.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The striking electric wiremen of this city, through the executive committee, have organized a co-operative electric company. The strikers are fighting a combination of eighteen firms and expect to come off victorious.

An Extravagant Empress.

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Report attributes the failure of a large firm of costumers here to embarrassments that have arisen to a large bill the Empress has long left unpaid. Her expenditures for dress and jewelry are immense, she seldom wearing the same dress twice.

Attempt to Burn a Courthouse.

FR. WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 7.—An attempt was made Saturday night to burn the Allen courthouse. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, and but for its timely discovery the valuable county records would have been destroyed.

Died Suddenly.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 7.—Thomas Morgan, aged 40 years, a leading coal merchant, died Sunday while sitting in a chair in front of the fire at his home. He attended to business Saturday and did not complain of being ill. Heart disease was the cause.

Plenty of Corn in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 7.—Reports from all sections of the country now give assurances that there is sufficient corn to meet the wants of the people, and in addition that there is abundance on route from the United States.

Gen. Chapman Dying.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—Gen. C. P. Chapman, of wide reputation as a national guardsman, is lying at the point of death by paralysis.

Harry Hilliard Wylie, the "dead broiler" cyclist, who rode from New York to Chicago, by way of Wheeling and Indianapolis, on a wager that he could complete the trip without the expenditure of a cent, finished the journey at the city hall, Chicago, Sunday afternoon at 5:05 o'clock.

The strike at the Stenton car works, Allenton, Pa., has been declared off and the works are again in operation. The men had been paid $15 for each gondola car they made and were ordered to fill a contract for box cars at the same rate. They struck against this rate, but have now abandoned their demand.

Five colored men were shot at a ball and will probably die. The affray occurred at a dance on Berry's plantation, six miles from Augusta, Ga. A gang of men who had not been invited to the ball went there to get even with those who were. A pitched battle ensued, in which five men were fatally wounded.

A north-bound train on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad was wrecked at Muzie, Ind. T., ditching seventeen loaded cars and overturning the engine. Engineer Thomas Stanton, was caught under the engine and killed. Firemen Fred Ely, brakeman Logan Ayers and an unknown man were badly hurt. The wreck was caused by running over a cow.
